THE ABYSS BENEATH OUR FEET

Author: Ronaldo Vivo Jr.

Synopsis

When Alison Ventura fails to return home one fateful night, her father Rey, owner of a local hardware store, plunges into a desperate search. Armed with a single unsent message, Rey navigates a labyrinth of CCTV footage and social media shadows, uncovering a darkness within the law itself. Like a classic noir hero, Rey's relentless search uncovers a truth far more sinister than he imagined - corruption festers within the very system designed to protect.

DWELLERS

Author: Eliza Victoria

Synopsis

Rule No. 1: You don't kill the body you inhabit.

Rule No.2: You should never again mention your previous name.

Rule No. 3: You don't ever talk about your previous life. Ever.

Two young men with the power to take over another body inhabit the bodies and lives of brothers Jonah and Louis. The takeover leads to a car crash, injuring Jonah's legs and forcing them to stay in the brothers' house for the time being. They are safe, for now. Until they find a dead body in the basement.

THE PHILIPPINES IS NOT A SMALL COUNTRY

Author: Gideon Lasco

Synopsis

This book is an exploration of the Philippines as a beautiful land, a home to a diversity of peoples, a nation-in-the-making, and a country at the heart of the world. Drawing from anthropology, history, contemporary events, popular culture, and the author's field experiences and travels, the essays draw connections between nature and culture, self and society, the local and the global, as well as the past and the present in order to arrive at a deeper, fuller, critical, yet hopeful view of a country that is larger than many imagine it to be.

MAQUEDA

Author: Nap I. Arcilla III

Synopsis

To many, Maqueda is the sea that both connects and separates them from the island of Catanduanes to the main island of Luzon. But this Maqueda tells about the people who are caught in the middle of its clashing waves, between forces that make them silent, the powerful voices that turn their screams into a whimper. These stories are about the fisherfolks' collective sighs and gasps that, in time, may potentially form into menacing stormclouds.

SCAMBITIOUS

Author: Mina V. Esguerra

Synopsis

Who is Elizabeth Madrid, exactly? She's Manila's latest It Girl—stylish, staple of the club scene, new best friend of famous-for-being-famous Chrysalis Magnolia. She's also a jewelry clan heiress, a former model, an Ivy Leaguer... except no one actually knew of her until last year.

Year: 2022

Extent: 210 pages

Size: 5 x 8 in

ISBN: 9798804183241

Jane likes to pretend to be other people. Don't trust her with your money, your things, or your heart.

YOUNG AND SCAMBITIOUS

Who is Elizabeth Madrid, exactly? She's Manila's latest It Girl - stylish, staple of the club scene, new best friend of famous-for-being-famous Chrysalis Magnolia. She's also a jewelry clan heiress, a former model, an Ivy Leaguer... except no one actually knew of her until last year.

PROPERLY SCANDALOUS

How are society girl Elizabeth Madrid and young actress Truffles Marquez connected? Not in any way Truffles is aware of, until a government official with a very specific crush unwittingly becomes the next mark for society scammer Jane del Mundo and the gang.

SHINY AND SHAMELESS

It does seem strange that Jane del Mundo has been living in Manila, pretending to be socialite "Elizabeth Madrid," for this long. You'd think something was keeping her there. Maybe a warped sense of obligation to her mother's con artist friend. An unhealthy physical attraction to fellow high-class thief Gabriel. Or maybe, because she's still on the job, working on one last big score.

GREEDY AND GULLIBLE

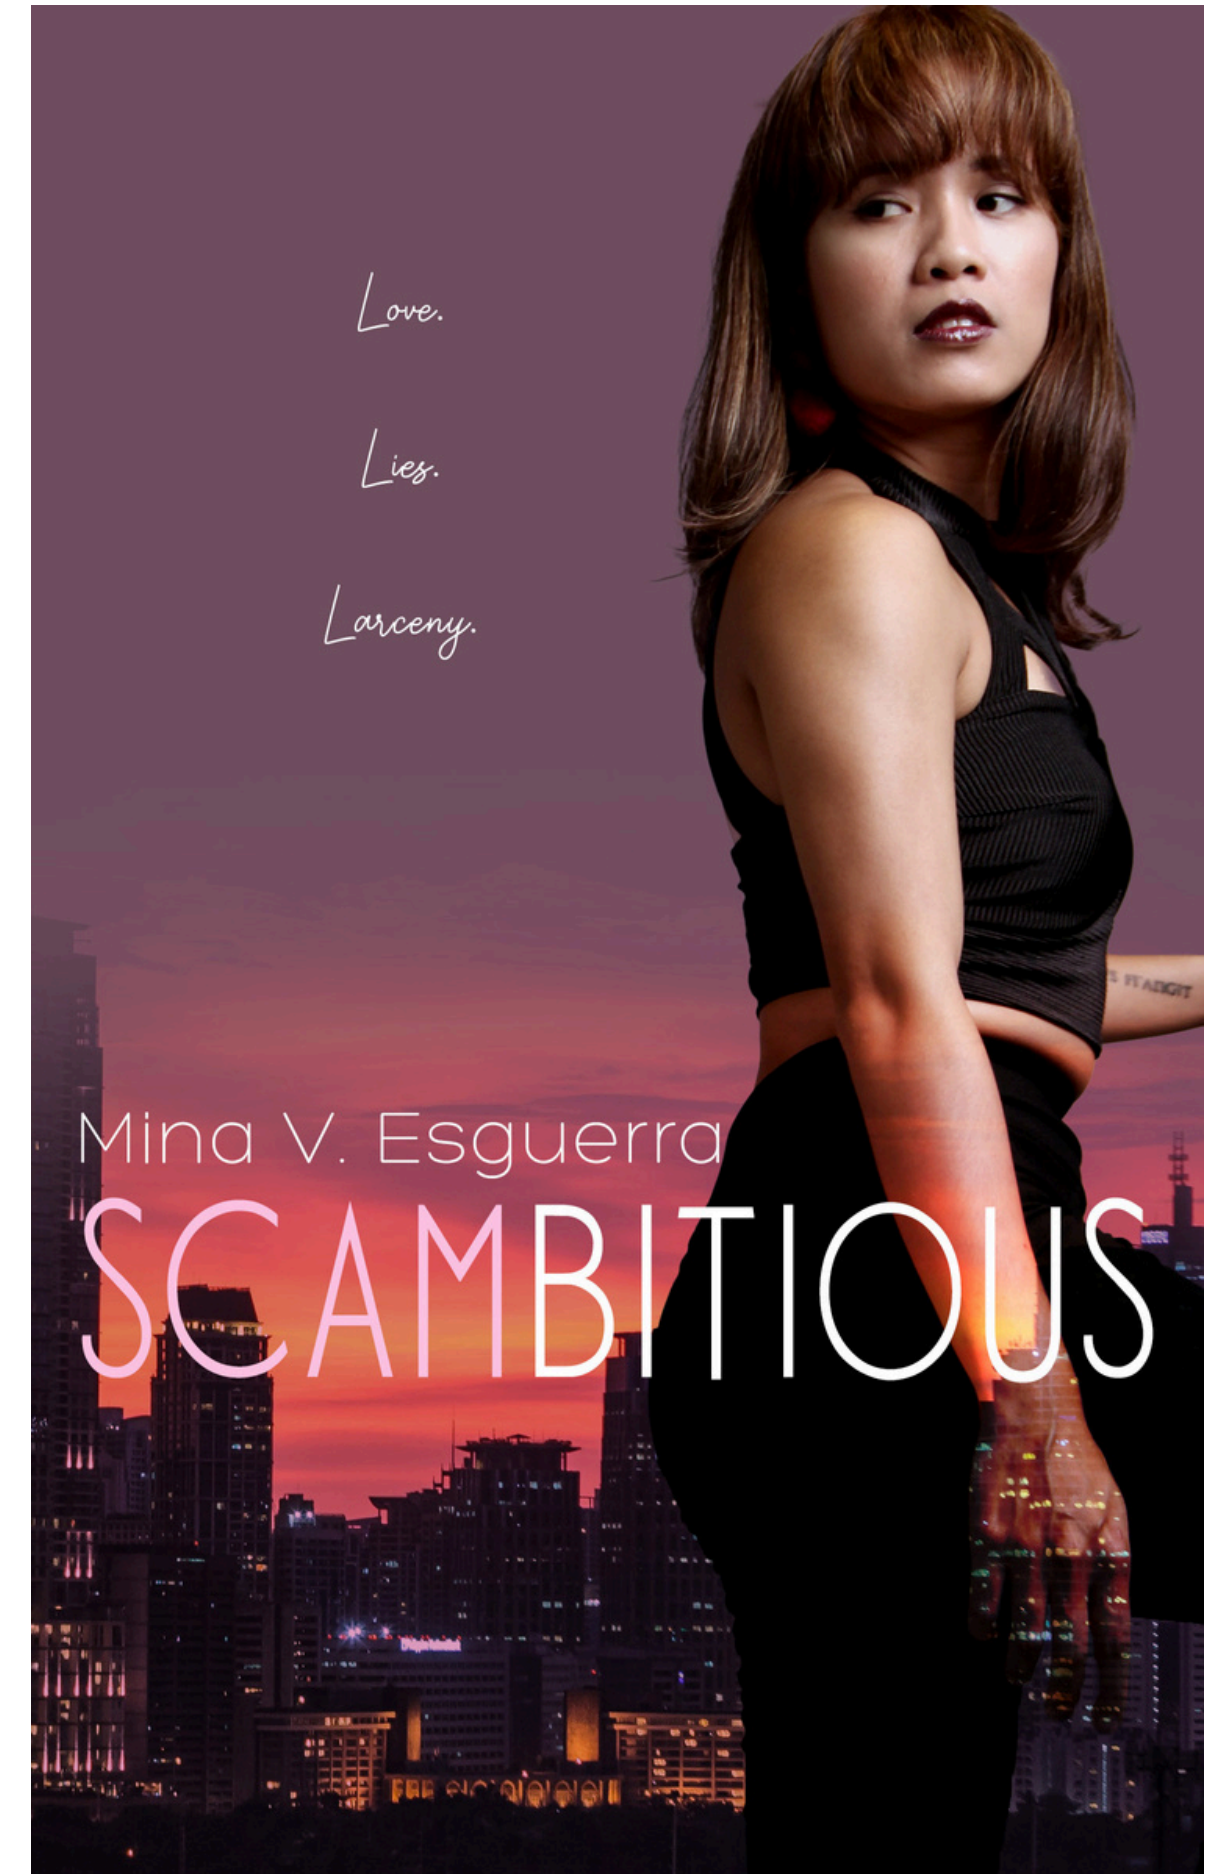

It's the season to exercise the right to choose, when Manila's powerful are at their most paranoid and reckless. You know what? Seems like the perfect time for a former fake socialite to visit and catch up with old friends.

KISS AND CRY

Author: Mina V. Esguerra

Synopsis

Figure skater Calinda met hockey player Ramirez when she was 20 and he was 22. Her parents and coach were against their relationship, and since then she's been "the one who got away." Ten years later, they meet again, and use his final three weeks in Manila to explore what might have been.

Extent: 178 pages

Size: 5 x 8 in

ISBN: 9781795813761

CALINDA MET RAMIREZ when she was 20 and he was 22. She was the rising star of women's skating, and he was the superstar forward of men's hockey. Her parents and coach were against their relationship, and because Calinda wanted to prove that no hot guy would ever distract her from her dream, she chose skating over him—and also avoided him all together.

Ten years later, they meet again as gold medalists and prominent sports advocates, still single and undeniably attracted to each other. It's still not a good time for them, because Ramirez is retiring from hockey and moving back to the United States. Calinda doesn't do relationships, really, and proposes they use his final three weeks in Manila to explore what might have been, and do all the things they wish they'd done (there's a list!). Then he can leave for good, and they can both move on with their lives without this one regret.

ROZEN'S PURSUIT, THOUGH FIERCE, IS MERELY A DESPERATE CHASE, BUT BENEATH COREEN'S ENDEARING DEMEANOR, IT IS HER WHO IS TRULY HEARTLESS.

Rozen has harbored feelings for Coreen since childhood, but her heart is set on winning the affection of his younger brother, Noah. Despite Rozen's relentless and sometimes, manipulative, tactics, Coreen remains oblivious—or so it seems. Over time, their relationship becomes more frayed and tangled. Theirs is a love story filled with unspoken affection and cruel missteps, but forgiveness becomes their saving grace. In the end, Rozen and Coreen choose each other, their love finding a way to bloom in the bond they have built.

PÚGOT: HEAD TAKING, RITUAL CANNIBALISM, AND HUMAN SACRIFICE IN THE PHILIPPINES

Author: Narciso C. Tan

Synopsis

Prior to the introduction of Islam and Christianity, deeply held religious beliefs led various Philippine communities to sanction ritualized forms of violence: human sacrifice, cannibalism, and head taking. Today, many Filipinos see these practices as “primitive,” “barbaric,” or pertaining only to so-called “tribes” and therefore not related to the national dynamic. This ambitious book weaves together historical data and archaeological studies with traditional myths, legends, and songs to create a seamless narrative of some of the most misunderstood aspects of Philippine culture and to shed light on deeply rooted cultures of violence.

CHILDREN OF WAR: MEMORIES OF WORLD WAR II IN THE PHILIPPINES (1942-1945)

Author: Joan Orendain

Synopsis

In Children of War, writer and journalist Joan Orendain presents a uniquely poignant accounting of one of the most formative events in the lives of her generation, and one of the most devastating periods in Philippine history: the three-year Japanese occupation during the Second World War, as remembered by the children who lived through it.

The author weaves together the experiences of witnesses from all over the country, hailing from different walks of life. From the tense uncertainty of the first outbreak of war and looming invasion, to the day-to-day struggles and small victories of life under enemy occupation, to the carnage and unrelenting horror of the final battle for liberation, the narrative uncovers the lifelong scars carried by those who had to grow up before their time.
